Meditation — The solemnity and significance of Easter is captured in this photo of seminarian Christopher Dallaire as he walks in meditation before the huge cross at St. Michael's Norbertine Seminary near El Toro. The resurrection of Christ was marked at churches throughout Orange County in special Sunday services.

Father Kolberg Ordained Priest

Rev. Lawrence Kolberg, newly ordained as a Roman Catholic priest, will offer his first Mass in St. Catherine's Church, Laguna Beach, on April 28 at 1:00 p.m.

Father Kolberg is a brother of James J. Kolberg, 25221 Costeau Drive, Laguna Hills. On days off from St. John's Seminary in Camarillo, the then young seminarian assisted Rev. Otto E. Sporrer, Pastor of St. Nicholas Church in Laguna Hills, at numerous Masses.

On July 9, 1967, he served as a chanter at the dedication services of St. Nicholas Church at which rites His Eminence James Francis Cardinal McIntyre officiated. Father Kolberg is a former classmate of Father Jerome E. Turba's who is the Assistant Pastor of St. Nicholas.

Rev. Tami's Questionnaire

BECAUSE I AM A VITALLY CONCERNED AMERICAN and because conditions in our beloved America have reached a critical state; and because it has become obvious that individual commitment is the only way to get at the source of the problem;

I COMMIT MYSELF TO THE FOLLOWING RESOLUTIONS:

1. I pledge this is a commitment to action, not just to words.

2. I pledge to underscore each resolution below that I do not now act upon, and work with each one until I do act upon them or can honestly justify my inaction.

3. I pledge to read the Kerner Report and other books and articles so as to become accurately informed in these matters.

4. I pledge to confront my own fear and prejudice and strive to eradicate them.

5. I recognize the special rights and privileges that I enjoy, and I pledge to demand the same rights and privileges for each and every man.

6. I pledge to actively support both legislation and taxes to provide more and better jobs, housing, health, recreation, and education for all in our country who are poor, underemployed and ill-housed.

7. I pledge to trade with those business concerns which practice fair employment and provide upgraded job opportunities.

8. I will demand that every effort be made to achieve and maintain quality education in all schools and, in particular, to develop integrated schools of the highest quality. I pledge not to remove my children from such schools.

9. I pledge to welcome neighbors of all races and creeds: to support open housing and to rent or sell my home without restrictions.

10. I pledge not to try to escape the problems of my city, or my responsibility toward eliminating slum conditions elsewhere, but will work to those ends which will insure that human dignity will be upheld and restored and nurtured everywhere.

11. I pledge to support those political candidates, regardless of party, who demonstrate the clearest understanding that the brotherhood and equality of all Americans is the major issue of our times — the one which must receive first priority both morally and economically.

12. I pledge that violence will not cause me to react violently nor will it cause me to abandon my commitment to this pledge.

13. I WILL POST THE RESOLUTIONS in a place where I will be constantly reminded of my commitment and progress.

14. I WILL COMMUNICATE my action to my friends, neighbors and fellow workers, in the hope of gaining their interest and active support of the aims stated or implied in the resolutions above.

EDITORIAL:

Racial Problem Now

The Rev. Domenick Tamietti, of the Methodist Church located at 26601 Cancion Drive, Mission Viejo, gave a speech — a little over a week ago — to the Kiwanis Club of Mission Viejo on the racial problem our entire nation is faced with.

The thesis of his speech was "racism is a white problem" and "when the black burn down their own stores and buildings it is a white problem." The Rev. Tamietti felt that all of us — even in an isolated area like ours, far from the strive of the battle — should do something about the greatest social problem of the century.

Since that time the Rev. made up a check list under the heading "Because I Am a Vitally Concerned American," which he is passing around in our area. He explained to our newspaper staff this week that the check list is "an opportunity for self-analysis of a community on how they stand on this social problem."

On page 2 of this newspaper is his check list. We recommend you take the test to better evaluate your own feelings on this issue.

If you feel the seriousness of the situation you might want to send the list, with your name and address, to Rev. Tamietti at his above address.

Whether you agree with him or not is one thing. The important thing — as it appears to this newspaper — is that the Rev. Tamietti cares — cares about his community and his nation.

He at least deserves an answer. How about taking a minute and answering the questions?

Prof Receives Naval Medal

Professor Arthur Marder, University of California, Irvine historian, has been accorded one of Great Britain's most distinguished awards, the Chesney Memorial Gold Medal, for his writings on British naval history.

The honor is extraordinary for an American, according to Dean Samuel C. McCulloch of the UCI School of Humanities. Only one other American has received the distinction since the gold medal was instituted by the Royal United Service Institution in 1899 as part of a memorial to General Sir George Chesney, a famous Royal Engineer.

Among others to receive the medal were Sir Winston Churchill. The only other American was Admiral Alfred Thayer Mahan, who received the initial award for his epochal works on the influence of sea power in modern times.

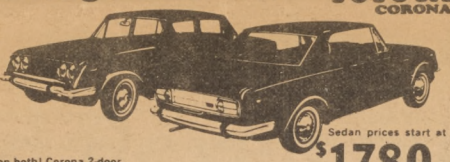

In announcing Professor Marder as the latest recipient, the Royal United Service Institution stated: "The Award is not made regularly or as a matter of routine, but only to those who from time to time are considered worthy of it. It is an award to the author of any specially eminent work or works calculated to advance military science or knowledge of the Empire."

Professor Marder is particularly noted for his series of books on the history of the British navy, including "The Anatomy of British Sea Power," 1940; "Portrait of an Admiral," 1952; "Fear God and Dread Nought," (three volumes, 1952-59); and "From the Dreadnought to Scapa Flow," (three volumes, 1961-66).

Saddleback's Vogel Hits OCC Faculty Senate

Following a statement criticizing Saddleback College's position on the seat tax by the Faculty Senate of Orange Coast College, a Saddleback official denounced a "verbal battle."

Hans W. Vogel, president of Saddleback College Board of Trustees, said his college district has no desire to engage in a verbal battle with the Orange Coast College group.

The Faculty Senate charged that Saddleback officials "lacked moral responsibility."

Saddleback district will pay an "education fee" of about $700 for each of its students in another college, but Orange Coast College is demanding an additional $300 per student as a capital outlay charge, referred to as the seat tax.

Asked to comment on the Faculty Senate's statement, Vogel replied, "Inopportune words based on emotion establish communication barriers in cases of future relationship between the parties thus engaged."

He added that since the faculty members are "seekers of truth" by the very nature of their profession, "I submit to these learned gentlemen that they apply their scientific research methods in order to establish all of the facts before making a judgment based strictly on emotionalism."

Vogel gave this background on the seat tax:

"Several junior college districts have been formed since the Rodda Bill was passed in 1965. Under this bill a new junior college district is absolutely prohibited from paying a so called seat tax. Ohlone College is only one example of a junior college district that benefitted tremendously from the 1965 legislature. That district received nothing but the finest cooperation from the other junior college districts in its area.

"Our district was voted into being partly on the basis of this seat tax law — are we going to change the rules in the middle of the game?"

"The California School Board Association which was the spokesman originally for most of the junior colleges in 1965 gave its full backing to the 1965 legislation."

Vogel concluded, "It would appear to be the old story one so often hears, but never accepts — It just depends on whose ox is being gored."

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor,

In my youth I was, for a period, a copy boy for a large metropolitan newspaper. One of the chores, about 11 a. m., was to be at the presses to grab some of first off of the bulldog edition for the editor.

The man in the slot would start at the upper left hand corner of page one and go over every line. On good days he perhaps would get to page two before the fireworks started. Then he would grab the mouthpiece of the speaking tube to the pressroom (this in the days before the silly toy of Alexander Graham Bell became popular). After he blew the whistle, he would pour vitriol down to the pressroom, with comments about the ancestors of the pressman. Back would come sulfur fumes and promises of mayhem in the alley after the run was done.

The reason for these exchanges of pleasantries and mutual admiration? Somehow the gremlins had fouled up the type — there was a misspelled word, a transposed sentence, times interchanged, or the crime incarnate — a whole paragraph missing!

I don't mind the population of the area being reduced 20,000 people, or Jack Roper being an authority on the Election Code instead of the Education Code — But — when the key paragraph of my discussion of a proposed primitive park on the lower portion of Aliso Creek is left out we reach for the speaking tube!

electric cart and dinner for a $15 entry fee.

Trophies and other prizes will be awarded at the dinner.

Minier said proceeds from the tourney will be used to purchase a pitching machine for the baseball team and a movie camera for the football team.

Entrants may phone Bob Minier at (714) 837-5675.

At least there was some good came of the incident. It has been proved that I have a public, as a great number of people has asked what I was talking about. So, a repeat, vis.

Aliso Creek starts back of Loma Ridge at about the Monastery, it flows straight south through El Toro and Leisure World, from there it goes through some very attractive primitive country to the coast near the country club. We suggested that a portion be preserved as a park.

Already, about four miles of this area is being ravished by the extension of Moulton-Alicia Parkway to the Civic Center on Crown Valley Parkway.

McKay Mitchell

Dear Carl,

For the last half hour I have been reading through your newspaper. You have done a marvelous presentation of the news to the vast audience you must surely be reaching with the RANCHO REPORTER.

It was good to study the type of photography you selected on behalf of your readers. The photographs were clear and told the story they intended sharply and completely.

The general layout and design of RANCHO REPORTER is done very well and you are to be commended on the talent you have shown in this direction.

As with every publication, there is room for improvement, but who becomes satisfied with a product when they are constantly seeking to use the latest knowledge available to give their readers the finest possible service and news coverage... as you are at the RANCHO REPORTER.

You make me proud to know men of your caliber in the journalism profession. Keep up the good work. Very sincerely yours, Tickets for the event go on sale beginning today at the University Park school. Members of the Ballet Company are seen preparing for their Friday program.

Laguna Ballet Company At Univ. Park Friday

The colorful and fast-moving dance program "This is Ballet" will be presented Friday, April 26 at 4:15 and 8 p.m. in University Park Elementary School, Sandburg and Matthews, University Park, by the Laguna Beach Civic Ballet Company under the auspices of the University Park Recreation Committee and the PTA.

With the assistance of live narration by the London-trained platform personality Douglas Reeve, the dancers will show all phases of dance training from the first simple positions to advanced techniques, including some exciting Bolshoi lifts.

Tickets for "This is Ballet" will be on sale at University Park Elementary School during the lunch period on Wednesday, April 24. They may also be ordered from Mrs. Ruth Hayworth, 4242 Seton in Irvine; telephone 833-0654.

Admission to the matinee is $2 for adults and 50 cents for students; and for the evening performance, $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Old-Timer Urges Road Development

By MCKAY MITCHELL

A few weeks ago we advocated the active development of roads paralleling the freeway. Demonstrating this need was the 50 mile long traffic jam one Sunday last month and a repeat on Easter.

The congestion while the underpass of the San Diego Freeway and El Toro is being built adds to the confusion. When the new exits and entrys are opened it will relieve the problem somewhat but, still not good enough.

There was talk some months ago about a road being opened between Mission Viejo and El Toro and it is there; but if you try to use it be certain to have lunch first, because it is poorly marked and it is easy to go astray.

The road serving the new Lake Forest area should be extended to Sand Canyon, through the center of the Speedway. If the short distance between Leisure World and Capistrano Highlands on Valencia were opened to traffic on the private road the freeway would be relieved.

The opening of Moulton-Alicia Parkway through to the new Civic Center on Crown Valley Parkway will cut by one third the dis-ance from El Toro and Leisure World to the South Coast Community Hospital at South Laguna. This will be good in cases of emergency, but if there isn't a road available, it will at least have been a short pleasant drive. We understand the hospital has been running over 100 per cent occupancy of the 136 beds.

So its vital we all support the current expansion program.

Cinco de Mayo Fiesta May 5 In Mission Viejo

Competition for booths at the Cinco de Mayo Fiesta has run so high among service clubs in the community that booths will be assigned by lottery, according to Ed Clement, chairman of the event. Each participating service club had a representative at the April 16 meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Mission Viejo Inn. Each representative drew a slip of paper on which will be written the name of the game his organization will sponsor. Participating clubs are the Mission Viejo Youth Club, Rancho Viejo Woman's Club Federated, Los Alisos Homeowners, Mission Viejo Little League, Mission Viejo Homeowners, Kiwanis, Deane Mission Viejo Woman's Club, Mission Viejo Boosters, Lutheran Mens Club, Cub Scout Pack 602, University Park Youth Club, and Mission Viejo High School P.T.A.

Tickets for the Mexican dinner are being sold by the various organizations, and Mr. Ed Eggers, ticket chairman, warns those who are planning to eat during the festival to buy their tickets in advance.

Mr. Clement also announces the appointment of Virgil Hagopian as Decorations Chairman for the Fiesta. Cinco de Mayo will be held Sunday, May 5, on the grounds of Mission Viejo High School, starting at 12 noon, and ending with a parade and fireworks display in the stadium after dark.

Music and Movies Highlight Fiesta

"Fiesta time will be fun time, and it's all free!" promises Mrs. Marion Marosz, entertainment chairman for the Cinco de Mayo Fiesta to be held May 5 on the grounds of the Mission Viejo High School.

Featured on the outdoor stage during the afternoon, will be Spanish Dancers Mindy Puremon and Paula and Mindy Buleries, Organ Soloist K. C. Wilsey, Guitarists Dr. Richard Bareutia and Dr. Julian Palley of the University of California at Irvine Spanish Department, the Sara Derickson Dance Group, and the Mission Viejo High School band.

The multi-purpose room will be given over to dancing to the popular music of the "Eastern Gifts" led by Chris Lawrence and the "Electric Sidewalks" led by Rueben Lugo. There will be a continuous showing of Mexican films in the lecture hall.

Knott's Changing

"Ghost Town is now coming alive," Walter Knott, founder of Knott's Berry Farm, Buena Park, California, said today.

"We are enclosing Ghost Town so we can give our guests a whole new adventure in entertainment. A completely new concept in sound has been developed for some of the existing attractions. The town will be literally alive with characters and entertainment," he explained.

Starting in early June, there will be a charge of $1 for adults and 25 cents for those 3 to 12 years of age when accompanied by an adult, he announced.

There will be no change in the present policy of free parking under the shade trees, nor will there be a charge to the shopping and dining areas, Knott concluded.

Sheriff Plans Arrests

Sheriff Jerald Moiso and his posse will be busy Sunday, May 5, "arresting" all who attend the Cinco de Mayo Fiesta in Mission Viejo not dressed in appropriate costume.

Although there will be a jail set up on the Mission Viejo High School campus, where the fiesta is to be held, the sheriff does not contemplate an overcrowded condition because he is sure most people would rather either come dressed for the occasion or pay the small fine involved so they can spend the afternoon enjoying the many activities and winning all the prizes they can carry home.

Barbershop Quartets from 2-3 p. m., Sock Dance with the rock band from 3-3 o'clock, and many continuous features such as fortune-telling, a Spook House, Cablevision Booth, car smash, and many more.

Gates Carnival Set This Saturday

In Spring a young man's fancy turns to love. That maybe so, but Gates School P. T. O.'s fancy has turned to the annual school Carnival.

Jo Ann Bass has busily collected white elephants from friends and neighbors, the Alpha Beta and Thrifty Drug boxes, and the children's box at the school.

The game booths are being decorated by Sandy Palheggi and some of the booths will look like a Totem Pole or a Treasure Chest with prizes to interest all ages. Arleen Carson is in charge of handling the booths this year with Gloria Cools preparing tacos, hot dogs, popcorn, cotton candy, and cokes.

Entertainment is scheduled for the entire day with square dancers, singing groups, live music, Hawaiian dancers, and plenty of people.

See you at the Gates School Carnival, April 27, 10:00 a. m. till 4:00 p. m. next Saturday.

Club Plans Money Talk

"Gold and the Dollar" will be the topic for J. Howard Craven, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, when he addresses the Stanford Club of Orange County Friday, May 17 at 7:30 p. m. at the Saddleback Inn.

Craven, a resident of Palo Alto, is economic adviser to the president of the bank and directs economic research activities. He formerly served on the World Bank mission to Spain and as chief economist with the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association. He also has served as an economist with the Department of the Interior, the State Department and the Office of Strategic Services.

John P. Younkin of Tustin, program chairman, has appointed Stanton R. Herpick of Laguna Beach as chairman of the evening. Richard H. Pauley of Newport Beach is club president.

What about service?

What about service? We keep over 2,000 Renault parts in stock. And if our factory-trained mechanics run out of any of them, they know where they can lay their hands on replacements in 48 hours. Maybe less.

Mission Viejo Breaks Records

With 123 homes sold, March was the best sales month in the 2-1/4 year history of Mission Viejo Company, developer of the rapidly maturing 11,000-acre new town alongside the Santa Ana Freeway in southeastern Orange County.

Making the announcement, John T. Martin, vice president of marketing and sales for Mission Viejo Company, revealed that the March total pushed the company to a new quarterly record of 267 sales. The previous highs were 101 sales in November, 1967, and 206 in the last quarter of '67.

Martin stressed that all records are net figures, as opposed to the gross totals frequently used in the home-building industry. He pointed out that the new records thus are "real sales," not deposits or conditional transactions.

"These records represent the continuation of a trend that began over 15 months ago," Martin said. "During each of the last five quarters, our sales exceeded those of the previous quarter by a considerable margin."

In the first quarter of 1967, Martin noted, Mission Viejo Company offered one line of houses, La Paz Homes, and net sales totaled 90. The 267 sales during this past quarter were three different price categories with Eldorado Homes and Mission Ridge Homes added to the La Paz line.

"We confidently expect this snowballing effect to continue as more and more people become aware that Mission Viejo is not just another tract, but is a genuine new town, with over 5,500 people; with schools, churches, and a shopping center; with recreation clubs and one of the Southland's most famous golf courses."

"The phenomenon that is Mission Viejo began with a carefully conceived master plan that is being constantly improved and meticulously executed. The difference shows. As one recent visitor put it:

"Where most developers would put one tree, you put four trees and a flower bed. So, seconds after a first-time visitor crosses your entry bridge -- before he even has a chance to look at the model homes -- he already has concluded that Mission Viejo would be a nice place to live."

"We believe the difference shows in our sales, and we expect it to continue to show as record is piled upon record," Martin concluded.

Irvine Opens Health Center

A newly-constructed Student Health Center has been opened at the University of California, Irvine to provide health services to the campus community.

The $800,000 facility, located at the east side of the campus, off Campus Drive on California Ave., is financed by student fees, according to Dr. Donald E. Walker, vice chancellor for student affairs.

Included in the single-story structure are eight infirmary beds for students not ill enough for general hospitalization; clinical services, including x-ray, laboratory, pharmacy and physical therapy; mental health and psychological counseling services; and dental services.

Director of the student health service is Gerald B. Sinykin, M.D., of Newport Beach, who is assisted by physicians and specialists from the local community. Registered nurses also are on duty 24 hours a day, weekdays. Campus emergency cases are referred to Hoag Hospital, Newport Beach, on weekends.

Operating costs for the student health services at UCI are paid from the incidental fee charged each student. The service is supplemented by comprehensive medical insurance. For some services, such as pharmacy and dentistry, there are additional charges according to use.

Limited medical service, including first aid, is provided to other than student members of the campus community on a cost-basis.

Anaul 4-H Fair This Week-End Costa Mesa

When 4-H is mentioned, do you catch an image of a youngster with a steer or lamb in tow? This is still a true picture yet enhanced with changing times. Learning in 4-H clubwork is in the fields of Agriculture and Home Economics; however, today's projects are far from yesterday's.

4-H in Orange County encourages boys and girls to develop fully their potential by helping them to acquire knowledge and skills and to explore careers in many areas. Crops, Plant Propagation, Forestry, Weeds, Ornamental Horticulture, Entomology, Beekeeping, Home Management, Electricity, Woodworking, Climatology, Clothing, Food and Nutrition are some of the projects offered in clubwork.

Want to learn more about 4-H? Come to the Annual 4-H Fair at the Orange County Fair Grounds, Costa Mesa, on the weekend of April 27-28. More than 25,000 entries have been made by 4-H'ers who are youngsters in the 4th grade through 19 years of age. You don't have to worry about tickets (it's all free) or reservations (it's within commuting distance) and there's plenty of parking space!

This Annual Spring Fair gives 4-H boys and girls an opportunity to show the public the projects they have raised or made. Many interesting things will be happening. Saturday will feature livestock and home economics exhibits, plus live-stock showmanship and project judging contests. Sunday spotlights the 4-H Dress Revue where 260 girls will model the colorful clothes they have made.

In charge of the 1968 4-H Fair is Ken Bryant, leader of the Midway City Go-Fers 4-H Club. Assisting him are 4-H Junior Directors, Dave Carle and Julie Smith, members of the Orange Plaza Producers 4-H Club. The public is welcome to stop by the Orange County Fair Grounds Saturday and Sunday, April 27 and 28 to see 4-H in action.

UC Irvine Begins New Sunday Evening Recitals

The School of Fine Arts, University of California, Irvine, will present students and faculty members of the music department in a new series of concerts entitled "Sunday Evening Recitals." The concerts will be held in Room 178, Fine Arts Building, at 8 p.m.

The first concert, April 28, will feature Carol Boelter singing Purcell's "Blessed Virgin Expostulation," Brahms' "Virgin Cradle Song," selected songs by Hugo Wolf and seven Spanish songs by Manuel de Falla.

Arnold Juda will accompany Mrs. Boelter at the keyboard, and Peter Odegard will perform the viola part in Brahms' "Virgin Cradle Song." The three performers are members of the UCI music faculty.

Mrs. Boelter has performed in recitals and opera productions in Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, and San Diego and concertized in Europe and the Far East for three years under the auspices of the U.S. Defense Department. Her music mentors have included William Venard, Gwendolyn Koldofsky, Charles Hirt, Walter Ducloux and Lotte Lehman.

Juda has performed in concerts in Europe, the Orient, South America, and the United States. Before coming to the United States in 1954, he was composer and conductor for the Stage Society of the Amsterdam Municipal Theatre and Director of Music for the Dutch government's Foundation for Cultural Exchange.

Future concerts will consist of senior student recitals.

tals:

On May 12, Athanas Lollo, violinist; Paul Ingraham, tuba player; Connie Laing and Larry Gordon, pianists, will perform works by Bach, Beethoven, Hindemith, Persichetti, Webern, and Wilder.

On May 26, Sharon Martin, soprano, and Larry Gordon, pianist, will play works by Purcell, Mozart, Webern, and Schumann. They will be assisted by Roger Hickman, violinist and Polly Matzinger, bass player.

Final concert of the series will be June 2 with pianist, Donna Mulvey, performing works by Bach.

Royal Picks Executive VP

Chester B. Anderson, Chairman of the Board of Royal Savings and Loan Association, this week announced the appointment of William D. Morris as executive vice president and managing officer.

"The selection of Mr. Morris to fill the challenging post of Managing Officer of Royal, is indicative to this board's confidence in our young executives who have proved their abilities to think and perform according to the codes and concepts that made Royal the success it is today."

"During his year as Roy-al's Comptroller, together with a 10 year experience record in the financial field Bill Morris has set many new precedents of progress and we are confident he will bring Royal a quality of service and enthusiasm that will be refreshing and profitable to the entire savings and loan industry," said Anderson.

Having achieved a substantial growth in Los Angeles, its parent location, Royal has recently opened its first branch office with a permanent new building in the new shopping development just east of Leisure

William D. Morris

World in Laguna Hills.

The Laguna Hills branch of Royal Savings and Loan is managed by Herman Griffin.

Saddleback Begins Committee Meetings

New participation by Saddleback College citizens is underway as subcommittees of the General Advisory Committee conduct initial meetings.

Subcommittee members are bringing their talents and ideas together to help plan the community college in all phases, from books to buildings.

There are 11 subcommittees and all subcommittee members serve on the 110-member General Advisory Committee, a "working citizens' group that is unique in scope," according to Superintendent Jack S. Roper. The General Advisory Committee met in an organizational session last month.

Superintendent Roper is chairman of the General Advisory Committee, and other officials of the college serve as chairmen of the subcommittees.

Proposals adopted by the subcommittees, if approved by the General Advisory Committee, will be submitted to the Board of Trustees.

"We must make certain that from the very beginning Saddleback will be a true community college and reflect the needs and desires of the residents of the district," Supt. Roper commented.

"With the advisory committee program, interested citizens are helping us achieve this type of college."

Two subcommittees conducted their first sessions.

Saddleback Librarian Arlene Moore met with the library subcommittee Wednesday (April 17) and Science, Math, and Vocational-Technical Division Chairman James Thorpe met with the vocational-technical subcommittee Thursday (April 18).

Other subcommittee meetings scheduled and chairmen include:

April 23 — Counseling and guidance subcommittee, Associate Dean of Students M. Bud Weber, 7:15 p.m. district office board room.

April 24 — Building subcommittee and finance subcommittee, Business Manager Roy N. Barletta, 8 a.m. district office board room.

April 24 — Community services subcommittee, Director of College and Community Relations Melvin E. Mitchell, 7:30 p.m., district office board room.

April 25 — General education subcommittee, Dean of Instruction Fred H. Bremer, 7:30 p.m., district office board room.

April 25 — Athletic subcommittee, Athletic and Physical Education Division Chairman George Hargman, 7:30 p.m., 1203 Via La Mesa, San Clemente.

April 29 — Adult education subcommittee, Business Science Division Chairman Howard Marcou, 7:30 p.m., district office board room.

April 30 — Humanities subcommittee, Language and Fine Arts Division Chairman Doyle McKinney, 7:30 p.m. district office board room.

The building and finance subcommittees will meet together in order that they may view the graded campus location at Mission Viejo.

Saddleback College will begin instruction September 23.

Free Eye Test On May 13

The Elks Preschool Vision Screening Program will be held at the La Paz Preschool next month to identify those youngsters who need a professional eye examination. Amblyopia, or "lazy eye" is a common eye problem with children and if discovered early can be effectively treated.

The California Elks and the Orange County Health Department are sponsoring the preschool vision screening for all children in this area who are 3½, 4, or 5 years old. The test is free of charge and the children need not attend the preschool. Testing will be from 9:00 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. on Monday, May 13. Please call Mrs. Sylvia Noble, Director of the La Paz Preschool at 837-2500 to set up an appointment.

Piano Concert At Chapman

The Chapman College Music Department will present pianist Pablo Arriola in a recital on April 27 at 8:15 p.m. in the college auditorium, open to the public free of charge.

Arriola is a junior majoring in music at Chapman College, where he is also a member of the Concert Choir. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arriola of Orange.

On the program will be the Bach French Suite No. 6 in E, the Haydn Sonata No. 43 in E Flat, "Masques" and "La Terrasse des Audiences au Claire de Lune" (Prelude No. 7) by Debussy, and the Handel Variations, Opus 24, by Brahms.

In the spring of 1967, Arriola played with the Orange County Symphony as a result of winning first place in the Symphony's statewide audition.

After receiving his bachelor of music degree from Chapman, Arriola plans to earn a master's degree at Cleveland University in preparation for a career as a concert pianist.
